

About Me

Hello, I'm Luka - a junior UI/UX designer who recently graduated with a BA(Hons) in Marketing Communications. Detail-oriented, creative and always deeply curious, I approach design with a mix of divergent thinking and practical problem solving. Skilled in Figma for wireframing, design and prototyping. Tech-savvy and a quick learner, I am self motivated to pick up new tools & skills, which helps me be adaptable to different workflows and effectively collaborate with others. This was demonstrated during a six-month internship where I worked closely with web developers to redesign and refine existing clients' UI & UX. I'm very eager to start my UI/UX career to contribute to making the online world better through human-centred design.
